Just past the church cross the road and go into the churchyard. The path goes straight ahead through the churchyard with church on your left and out onto the edge of a field. Proceed along path until reaching quiet lane.

Turn right and follow lane keeping right at next junction. The lane sweeps round to the right. Keep on lane for approx 800m and then just as you see a footpath and farm buildings on right, look for a footpath signpost on the left.

Turn left along the path which follows the line of telegraph poles with hedge on left until coming to track. At the track – part of Angles Way – turn right and follow until reaching busy road. Cross busy road with care and then follow track and then road into Harleston.

With the supermarket at your back walk from the car park straight ahead and out onto 'The Thoroughfare' where you take a left turn and follow for 400m.

At the fork in the roads take the left fork up Station Hill. You will pass Blackburn Construction on your right before descending the lane. Continue over the river bridge and then take the right fork up the hill before coming to a road junction.

At the junction turn right. Walk for approx 800m and just before the bridge and cottages there will be a footpath on the left by a telegraph pole and along a line of trees.

Head uphill on the footpath until reaching the lane and turn right. Proceed along the lane for 200m until coming to a private drive on the left to a cottage backing onto the woods. There is a footpath on the right side of the drive.

Take the footpath towards the cottage and skirt the fields past the cottage and keeping the woods on your left. Follow the field all the way until reaching an opening with a cottage in front. Turn right and head down field until reaching a lane.

At the lane turn right and continue until reaching two cottages on the right.

Continue straight ahead down the lane until reaching main road A143. Cross the road the lane marked 'Access Only'. Return to cars.
